fore I begin my remarks, there are many people I'd like to extend my sincerest thanks to. To our aching staff, Coaches Shrimpton, Carroll, Foote, LaForge, Blacker and Williams. I'm blessed to work ngside such talented and passionate coaches. Their vast knowledge of the game and love of our players kes them ideal role models and mentors. Our players are truly fortunate to be in such caring and alified hands. Mr. Bedard for his constant support and leadership. Thanks to Mrs. Bedard for her help h details and planning. Heather and her support staff Meagan and Oliver for their incredible daily work in clinic with our players. We suffered several significant injuries this year, and it's a testament to their mendous efforts that we had a healthy roster on the field when it mattered most. Mr. Shields for his nkless, yet invaluable contributions as our equipment manager. Mr. McHenry, and former Director of vancement Jim Herder for their weekly support and encouragement. To the entire Andrean community providing us with remarkable crowd support, including a packed stadium at Homecoming and at the SAA championship game. And last, but certainly not least, our team manager Kevin Truong. Kevin was redibly dedicated and reliable as our manager. Without question, he is a full-fledged member of our m. To our senior players, I say thank you. Thank you for carrying the banner of our football program. ank you for your leadership, dedication, and pride. It is no coincidence that all of our senior players aduate with at least one CISAA championship on their resume. This group of young men are winners. LG

he 2013 U16 football season started with much excitement. We had ver 60 boys who were issued equipment. By the season's end, we till had 55 boys on the roster, most of whom had played significant inutes which is a testament to my fellow coaches Mr. Prezens, Mr. tewart, Mr. MacPherson, Mr. Brennagh and even Mr. LaForge, who ome prepared each day to keep the boys happy and motivated.

he season started off well. We played Villanova in an opening week crimmage which, after it was over, we felt confident with our player's ffort. We then started league play with a loss to St. Mike's at our Homecoming. What was interesting about that game was that a video vas posted of… sorry, how much time do I have? Oh, OK, I better get o our player awards.

Our MIP was a player who started the season having never played a ame of organized football. While that actually describes half of our eam every year, we found that his aggression and knack for tackling orced us to insert him into our starting lineup half way through the eason. He quickly established himself as an excellent linebacker. Our MIP goes to #22 Jamie Finlay.

Our MVP was a person who drove the team forward with his heroic lay on the field. While he was a quiet leader, he showed the boys the ype of tenacity you need to play with, when participating in a sport as igh-impact as football. He was such an impact on defence, we tarted using him on offence during our final three games. At that oint he never left the field. Our MVP for this year is #21 Walter Karabin. BK

Coach Manning likes to say that a team can't be defined by one game. And he's right, to define a team by one game is to ignore the progress, learning, and ups and downs of a season. It is to ignore the contributions and sacrifices that players have made from the first day of training camp until the final whistle of the final game. It is to simplify sport down to one thing: winning. At St. Andrew's, we pride ourselves in the notion of the complete man; the well rounded citizen - which means much more than simply winning. In soccer terms, it means playing with pride, respect, and sportsmanship. It means giving one's all, in every game and every training session. And it means leaving the field with heads held high when the result doesn't go our way.

Since we won't define this year's team by one game, we will not remember them as silver medalists, but rather, we will remember them as committed, passionate, and devoted. We will remember their progress. Quite frankly, if during our training camp you had told us that we would win the league and be in the playoff final, we would have suggested that you were spending too much time with the Mayor of Toronto in his off hours. Teams generally don't have a lot of success when 15 players graduate and only 4 return. But we did.That tells you everything about the players on this team. They worked hard each and every practice and they improved not only their individual skills, but also their understanding of the game. With this came camaraderie – never before have I seen so many players refer to each other as brothers. There were lots of highlights, in particular beautiful performances at the CAIS National Championships in Halifax where the boys wowed the crowds and left the opposition chasing shadows. While this is a team, there are three graduating players who must be acknowledged for their timeless commitment to the team: Michael Marcantognini, Jason Graham, and Matthew Kennedy. Boys, your leadership and incredible skills were essential to the team's success. We will miss you greatly and wish you luck as you move on to the next level. DM

The year started with nearly 40 boys trying out for 18 spots, which expanded to 21 when all was said and done. Our schedule included a pre-season mini tournament and 4 of 5 away league games in a 16 day period. Needless to say, our work was cut out for us. Early injuries to both our keepers forced us to throw Matt Leroy at UCC in the second half of their homecoming, and while he was fearless....the result wasn't pretty. The JV's played in a very difficult division, with at least 3 varsity squads that could play in the first Division. When the team played out to the wings, we were dangerous and competitive. When we played the ball into the middle, we struggled. In the end, we beat the teams we should have beaten, and lost to the teams that were better than us, including the eventual Division 2 Champs, Lakefield College School, who beat TCS in the final. Overall the boys can be proud of their efforts. We won and lost with class and character. The coaches would like to thank the grade 12 veterans – Captains Scott Elliott and Alex Sgro, Bobby Cave, Francois Yoshida-Are, Ricardo Lozada, JP McCluskey, and Mark Zhen for their leadership and dedication. SK

After a respectable pre-season early-bird performance, your Saints were excited about the prospects of a banner season. Day in, day out, players came to practice determined to work hard to improve. For this team work hard – play hard was the dictum. If smiles and laughter are any measure of a teams success (and I believe they are) then the Andrean spirit was alive and well in this group of young players.

Despite a lackluster season, 3 of our 6 games against Appleby, Hillfield, and Ridley College were lost by only one goal. In a 4th against Crescent, we had our chances.

We have heard it before and we will hear it again. Real character reveals itself in the face of adversity. On the field, after every game, your Saints looked their opponents in the eye and congratulated them on a good game.

The stated goal for the U16A soccer team is 'To provide a soccer program which will help players develop their potential as individual and team players'. There is no doubt in my mind that every player grew as individual and team players. Several are destined for Varsity play.MJ

The U16B (Junior Boys D3) soccer saints had the best season in recent history without question. In the early days of training, Coach Totera and I focused on building the team from the ground up. We spent hours working on skills and drills, learning each other's strengths and challenges, and creating the best positional equation we could muster. Our first game against Country Day School was an eye-opener; however, this would turn out to be our only loss of the season. What we did see in the first game was a team that was really motivated and eager to work together. Individually, we weren't the most skilled on the pitch, but as a team, we were able to put things together extremely well. Our strong defence, and confident mid-field passing plays allowed for many scoring opportunities. We chipped away at our opponents throughout the season and found ourselves in first place after the final league game.

The semi-final and final match saw our team peak in its performance. Highlights of these matches were two of the most spectacular goals ever imagined at this level of play. The first, in our semi-final match against The York School, was a rocket unleashed by Jorge Chedraui from well outside the 18 yard box. The bullet hit the top left corner of the goal with sniper-like precision and the keeper simply didn't' have a chance to react. The second memorable goal of the day was in our final match against Country Day School. From nearly the half line, Jose Olivar sent the ball high in the air. The crowd hushed as the ball soared and began a perfect arc towards the net. With outstretched arms, the keeper reached with desperation into the air. The ball floated effortlessly just over the grasping hands and landed in the back of the net for a goal. The U16B Saints won the final game, and the gold medal to finish a truly spectacular season. Congratulations to all members of the team for their success. BM ear at this time I regaled you with fantastic details about the championship n of our U14A soccer team. Undefeated, and only scored upon in two s – that was a very special team. This year's squad was an entirely different but no less special. Perennially, we've been challenged by the likes of St. and UCC, but now Crescent, with the help of a battery of coaches was ming at their best. It was apparent early on that we weren't going to beat or natch these other teams with ballhandling skills, and with the season g less than two months to practice and improve, we had to focus on ig, defending, and finishing. Going into playoff Saturday seeded fourth, on ength of only two wins (both against Hillfield), we knew overcoming the #1 vould need a miraculous performance.

ig at the back, our defense corps of Ben Mai, Greg Vovtchenko, Wells in, and Luke St. John, anchored in the middle by stopper Mauricio ian, and sweeper Alvaro Martinez, with their fierce tackling kept the champs score sheet for all but the last ten minutes of the game. Our middlefielders: Tian, Will McHenry, Branson Johnson, Mario Vazquez, Andres Gomez, and Carlos Velazquez, all proved they'd learned to pass and effectively ute the ball forward, running without pause for the duration of the game, ssly swarming and frustrating our opponents.

nt, our attackers: Lucas LaBrier, Santiago Arzuaga, and Cam Hillis, were o deliver the first chance to the feet of our centre forward Austin Brett, who tically tucked the ball into the back of the net, giving us a 1 – 0 lead against iamps. With the constant help of our fearless goalkeeper, Pablo Carranza, pponents came perilously close to losing a massive upset. We eventually ded victory to St. Mike's in the last minute of the first overtime half, but not e we'd given their large cheering section, coaches, and players a real scare. that they went on to easily beat UCC 3 – 0 in the finals, we felt we'd truly o the occasion, saving our best for last, which is what every coach wishes team.DK

The U14B soccer team enjoyed a relatively successful season. The season got off to a good start as the boys played host to St. John's-Kilmarnock School and defeated them 5-1. After the weather conditions cancelled the Homecoming match the boys faced a good squad from Pickering College in the second match of the year. Trailing by three goals late in the game, J.P. Schnabel '18 and Sebastian Giorgio '18 made things interesting with a goal each, however, the comeback would fall just short. The following game against Kempenfelt Bay School saw the boys go down 1-0 early. Peter Wu helped lead the comeback with a goal and we won the match 2-1. With a record of 2-1 we travelled to Cherry Beach in Toronto for our toughest match of the season against Montcrest School. Montcrest proved to be far more skilled than us and we lost 3-0. The final match of the regular season saw us travel to Trinity College School to face off against another talented squad. TCS didn't let up and handed us our worst loss of the season. With a season record of 2-3, the boys finished fourth and earned a spot in the final tournament hosted by Montcrest School back at Cherry Beach.Once again, the boys faced off against a skilled side from Montcrest in the first game. Although the boys played a determined game they simply couldn't match the skill level their opponents and fell 3-0. This meant they would play for third place against Pickering College. With one substitute and little rest between games the boys came out and played a great game and really took the play to Pickering. A couple of unlucky bounces saw Pickering take a 2-1 lead, however, the boys fought back late in the second half to tie the game at two. Extra time would provide no winner and the always exciting shootout was required to determined a winner. After the first three shooters we were in a comfortable lead, however, Pickering would tie the shootout at three goals each and force extra shooters. It would take seven rounds and 14 shooters to final determine a winner and Joseph Grassa '18 provided the goal to finish the season on a high note. DJ

By most accounts, the U13A season was an amusing one. The goal of our team was to have fun and to promote individual and team development. The dictum, 'work hard, play hard' was very appropriate to this group of young athletes. There wasn't a practice where we didn't have a laugh or two!
Our season record was 0-4. While our season record does not show as many wins as we would have liked, without doubt our main goal was met. The boys had a fun time at CAIS this year, and were able to see some glory on the field with 2 big wins. A big thank you to the players on the B team who came to help us out! Though we did not make the play-offs, Mr. Richardson and I thank all players for their contributions to this year's team. A special shout-out to captains Andrew Boland and Spence Berman their valuable contributions this season. EP

There was a bit of a challenge at the beginning of this season, when after the first round of tryouts there only appeared to be 7 or 8 players available for our team. Now, we're certainly not afraid of challenges in Middle School soccer, but this would have taken it to a whole new level.

Luckily, the problem was eventually resolved. After a bit of begging, pleading and negotiating, we welcomed a number of new recruits and were ready to start our season with a roster of 13.

Our first test was at Villanova College. We used this game to sort out our positions and to learn about responsibilities on the field. It was actually amazing to watch the improvements that were made by our boys during the course of the match; in the first half, a lot of time was spent in a state of confusion, with boys caught out of position, sometimes running into each other or making excellent passes to the other team. In the second half, however the boys had found their positions, had started marking their opponents and playing effective defense, and actually started to turn the game around. Our improved play resulted in scoring chances that were capitalized upon when Reza scored with a high booming shot from about 25 metres out and when Josh beat the opposing goalkeeper on a breakaway from the right side. Although we still ended up losing that contest, the rapid improvement and two exciting goals ranked high among our season highlights.

But, enough about the details. Instead of focusing on goal scoring or wins and losses, I'd rather talk about the character of the young men that I had the honour to work with this year. We can't deny that we were clearly outmatched in all of our games, as we always found ourselves playing against teams with much more depth and experience. But, despite the fact that we did not have a realistic chance of winning these games, our boys always stayed positive, played their hearts out, and represented their school with pride. SL

The U12 Saints had a fantastic season this year. With half of the team comprising of new Andrean's they were able to mesh together and form a winning team. Much of our team's success came from our 'Old Boys' who helped guided the team work and perseverance. We had many highlights this year, including our CISAA Final 8 Division II victory over Upper Canada College Prep! Overall, they won 5 games and lost 6 this season. Great job on a wonderful season boys. Both coaches wish all of our grade 6s the best of luck next year as they play for our U13 teams. In order of importance, the top five qualities I hope for in a sports team are: sportsmanship, enthusiasm, hard work, team cohesion, and talent. I would rather coach a team without talent, but exuding the other attributes, than have the most talented team in the province that lacks in character. This year for U16 volleyball, Mr. Gilroy and I were fortunate enough to have the entire package. We had a match record of 34 wins and 4 losses; we won three tournaments and lost in the finals of another. I would say with a fair degree of confidence that the top four U16 teams in the province this year were Regiopolis Notre-Dame from Kingston, Eden High School from St. Catherines, St. Michael's College School, and St. Andrew's. It just so happened that two of those teams were from the same conference. We beat St. Mike's in league play, but they 15-9. The closer and more tightly contested the sets became, the more each team cranked it up a notch and raised their level of play. It was likely some of the best U16 volleyball played anywhere in Ontario this year. Both teams exhibited courage, desire, and character. St. Mike's walked away with the gold medals, but the St. Andrew's boys gave it everything they had. They earned their silver medals every bit as much as St. Mike's did their gold ones. You couldn't ask for two third consecutive CISAA title, but for so many other reasons, I would say this was one of the most successful seasons of my coaching career. MS.

The Under 14 volleyball team had a fun season this year. With most of our team new to volleyball, we started the season off slowly going 0 – 5. However, the development of our players and our team chemistry was outstanding. The boys worked hard in practice every day and saw their skills and understanding of the game improve dramatically. We had great leadership throughout the season from our Captain Ewan Fox, whose voice and encouragement could be heard all the way in Bedard gym on a regular basis. Dara Goharchi learned the game quickly, and ended the season as one of the most intimidating net players in the league. Marshall Moore was asked to play a large role on the team as a grade 7 and used his natural instincts to be a very effective blocker at the net. A special shout out is needed to Vlad, who despite how intense things got (I'm talking game 5 of the play-offs intense), always kept his eyes on the prize…what we were going to have for dinner. Throughout the season, our boys had to play up to teams that are much more experienced. This was not easy as every single game was an uphill battle. After five losses and no wins, the team was quite discouraged; they had almost forgotten what they were fighting for. However, every boy on the team continued to tirelessly push themselves in every practice, and it was our proudest moment as coaches when their hard work earned an exhibition win against Bayview Glen and a regular season win against Hillfield. It wasn't until then; the boys realize that the game is secondary to the brotherhood and resiliency they have been battling for. CE & RW

After a great inaugural season last year, the U12 volleyball team was ready to continue where they left off last season. With only two returning players, there was a lot of fresh talent on the team this year. Most of the boys had never played volleyball before, so this season was all about developing the skills and confidence they needed to play. Our season kicked off with a very exciting win against UCC at Homecoming, and we continued to meet with success on the court in all but one game this regular season. Bayview Glen School proved to be our toughest challenge all year. Going into the CISAA Finals, we were ranked in first place. We soon realized that the other teams we had easily defeated during the regular season had all of a sudden really improved. Unfortunately, it was just not our day. The Saints ended up playing in the consolation game, where they lost and settled for fourth place in the league. All in all, they were a pleasure to coach and many of them made great progress in their skill level. Mr. Bryce and I are very pleased with all of their efforts. They did an incredible job of representing the School. NM

R. CROSS COUNTRY

The 2013 Senior Cross Country Season saw the largest team in recent history come out to run. A mix of experienced and new runners, our team trained hard including dreaded Saturday time trials in order to get into competitive shape. Across our four meets, the boys saw great improvement on their times and places. Culminating at the CISAA Championships at Trinity College School, our midget team placed 5th, with Regan Kimens coming first. In a field of 90 runners, it is quite an impressive feat! Other highlights include Elliot Powers placing 25th in the junior race, and our senior team placing fourth overall. Will Piddick was our top senior coming in 18th place. We would like to congratulate all the runners on a great season! NT

After having an incredibly successful season with last year's team, there were certainly some big shoes to fill. After the tryouts had finished, Mrs. D'Angelo and I were left with a squad that did not have a great deal of experience as runners. These guys were pretty raw as far as ability was concerned, but they had incredible energy and a willingness to learn. Upon hearing the length of our races, a sense of fear (and I would even say desperation) crashed over them like waves on an unsuspecting boat. Many of the boys on the team were very uncertain as to whether or not they would be able to complete the distance that our sport demands. In an attempt to calm their nerves and give them some focus at the beginning of the year, I kept my message to them quite simple. I said, "Whether you think you can or can't, you're right."

After having an appreciation for how important the mental aspect of the sport was, the boys began the season with positive thoughts and optimistic expectations to realistic goals. While it's true that most of our boys were simply competing against themselves and attempting to improve their personal times, we did have some boys that consistently placed in the top ten and earned a spot on the podium in a few of the races this season.

St. Andrew's also took the initiative this year to host our own middle school cross-country race. It's been a while since we held an event at our school, and our boys raced hard, making the most of our home-field advantage. In the U14 division, Hunter Kolm finished with an incredible kick to place 3rd overall and Quest Rodin also had his best run of the year to earn 2nd place in the U14 division.

Hosting a large event requires a lot of logistical planning. I want to thank Mr. Tsioris, Ms. Scheepers, and all the senior XC boys for helping us out on that day with marshaling. I also want to thank Mr. Bedard for his tireless effort leading up to the race and making the day a success for each kid racing, whether they finished first or last.

Mrs. D'Angelo and I thank the boys on the team for their great attitude and desire to improve; it was a fun season.

As the infamous Allen Iverson once said, "we're talking about practice" yet, during a season in which we won all we could: St. Sebastian's Tournament Champions, MacPherson Tournament Champions, CISAA & MPHL Regular Season Champions, and CISAA & MPHL Playoff Championships, it was practice that we were most proud of. We prepared the best as a unit than we ever have before. At practice the intensity was high, we were accountable to one another, and we improved and pushed ourselves to be our best each day. Our players created an environment that enabled us achieve our goals and it was really fun. Overall we finished with 46 wins-6 losses-2 ties, against the top teams at our level in North America and we never let ourselves down in terms of competing, being good sportsman, and honoring the game. This truly was a special group to be part of.

It also helps when our best players were our hardest workers, it's always best that way and we were led by a group of talented seniors that embodied "follow our lead." Graduates please stand be recognized, you have honored your school, your teammates, your families, yourselves, and the game, I say this with the utmost humility it was special to be part of what you created, thank you. DM

The Junior Varsity hockey team started the season with many question marks and a lot of enthusiasm. Unsure of where exactly our goals were going to come from we spent the first part the season trying to score more than 1 goal a game. At one point Coach Papalia and I were approached in the bathroom and were given some very sound advice. If your guys took the puck to the net and stopped all the other stuff they would be pretty good. Great concept Coach Papalia and I thought and we went storming bac into the room to inspire the troops for the third period.

It didn't work – the other team scored 3 goals by getting pucks to the net and we sent an endless stream of bodies to the penalty box in an attem to get the girls running the clocks number. It wa sad, we lost the game and received no number

By Christmas we were off to Kingston Ontario f a tournament where we played some of our bes hockey of the year. The boys also demonstrate that it was still possible to eat arena canteen fo (poutine, hot dogs) and have enough fuel to win the tournament. Going 4-1 and brining home some hardware was almost the highlight of the season.

Fortunately, it was not. After remaining winless throughout the regular season we snuck into th playoffs and faced the top seeded team from D Le Salle. Throughout the entire season the grad 12s would finish every game by saying "We can beat them". It was finally time to show up.

Without a doubt we played our best hockey of t season. Pushing De La Salle to overtime and coming close on a number of occasions to actually winning the game. In the end we needed one more bonce that never came.

Our MIP continued to improve throughout the season. He scored one of the finest goals we have ever seen. Even getting complements fro other teams coach and players. Our MIP – Mat Leroy

Our MVP is kind of like Dion Phenuf – He was divisive player. Full of talent, lots of talk and wh it mattered an ability to play the game. JM

ent: Mr. Greg Reid Esq,

It was my pleasure to again stand behind the bench of the U16 Hockey Saints. I took the knowledge that I gained from former Assistant Coaches Mr. Biasi and Mr. Stewart and realized that I had not learned enough in my past few years. However, I was not worried. This season I was to be paired behind the bench with the Men's League Legend himself Mr. Greg Reid. I was sure that I would learn a great deal from the versatile player and leader of a team called the "Skinney Fat Guys". With a team name like that…I knew he must be great! The truth is that I learned a lot from Mr. Reid. I learned that you can score multiple GWG's or Game Winning Goals off your butt if you stand in front of the net long enough. His exact recall of each goal is astonishing. I also learned that Mr. Reid loves his GPS for finding locations, arenas and outlet stores for shopping. Actually the shopping was a great idea. Thank you Mr. Reid!

All in all, the U16 Hockey Saints had an excellent season. We finished with a record of 7-3 in league play which left us in third place. This set up a date in the semi-finals against arch rival UCC. In the semi, the boys gave it their all, but it was not enough. After two great periods, we fell behind early in the third. We could never recover. Memorable moments this year were the great group of kids on this team, Aiden Brown's horrendous laugh, Cody Clark's screaming voice which our bus driver thought belonged to a girl, and an amazing trip to Cornell and Colgate Universities in a snowstorm with a crazy bus driver at the helm.

I would like to thank the players and Mr. Reid for a great year. I am already looking forward to next season.

Our MIP is a player that was barley selected to the team. Although he was a defenseman, he was asked (or told) to play forward for the season. He quickly learned this new position well and was eager to be on the ice. In particular, I noticed that this player expected to play well and was not happy with himself when he made a mistake on the ice. By the end of the year, he was an excellent forward that was dependable and gave his best effort whenever he took the ice. Congratulations, Matthew Chambers.

Our MVP was a player who gave everything to win during games. He was a vocal motivating force and was always around the puck. He was a player that always wanted to be on the ice. In addition to his leadership skills, he is a very talented player. It was appropriate that the jersey number he selected at the beginning of the season still had the "C" sewn on the chest from the previous year. GR

I looked at him and said in a low voice, "What now?" He turned toward me, "I know where we need to go." I replied rather naively. "Where's that?" 'The next level baby, whooooo!" That was the first day of U14 tryouts. Coach Galajda had set the tone for the season. This was an interesting group of hockey players, to say the least. There was little Stevie Daher, Fiery Jimmy, the boys called him, which was an obvious reference to his bright red hard, always smiling, even when he couldn't complete the stretch pass. Spence Berman plays an intense game and when you would ask him anything, his response was always, "My mom teaches Art." That's great, Spence...just great. We had intimidating characters, as well. During one game, one of my defenseman skated by me and all I heard was...(make Chewbacca sound). That's Thomas Childer Chewbacca Childerhose! I yelled, "Wheel, Childer...Wheel!" He never touched the puck after that. Bill McHenry, son of the Headmaster, was on this squad. Fine young man, but like his friend Cam Hillis, he swore like a sailor. I didn't say anything about it because, as Bill suggests, he has leverage! We lost a kid once. It was Aidan Bradley. I said to coach Galajda, "have you seen Aiden?" "Stay wide, McHenry! Why doesn't he stay wide?" "He's got leverage, leave him alone. But where's Aiden?" Then I heard something..."Defense. Defense!" Nobody knows where he went, but I still believe that he has magical powers and goes to many magical places. Coach Galajda rode the bus ONE TIME this season which was very kind of him. When he got to the bus, he did a line check. Alternate Captain Cam Hillis said, "We're all here, Coach." Galajda said, "Let's go." Wells Karabin was on that bus...at least until he left the bus to go to the bathroom. So, while Karabin was in the bathroom, the team took his equipment to the hockey rink without him and he sat the next game for missing practice. But Karabin didn't mind. He went home and played NHL 14 on his Xbox...for six straight hours. They used to call Wells the X Box Duster. So true, Wells, so true. Each player on the U14 squad motivated themselves in their own way: For example, Bobby St. John wanted to find a girl who would like him for his awesome hair and sweet hockey skills, while Lucas LaBrier simply wanted Big Macs! "Labs, skate harder." "Will I get a Big Mac?" "Maybe." Just the thought of a Big Mac motivated Lucas beyond words. This was an excellent team, with every ability to compete for the championship. Our season highlight came in January when we were playing at UCC, down 5-2 going into the third. We scored 4 unanswered goals and won the game with less than a minute to go. But, in the end, the same UCC squad beat us in OT in what has to be one of the finest games of U14 hockey played in many years. In fact, that was, in my opinion, the championship game. DS

xample of the kind of thing you have to deal with when you coach U12 hockey:

a game some of our boys were walking along and then noticed that there were some girls behind them. When Christian o noticed, he made some kind of grunting noise and started banging out push-ups. Not just push-ups, but the ones your clap d then do another one. Needless to say, the girls walked away. We also witnessed a great example of how important sports d Boys that live across the country and around the world. When our U12 boys took the ice in Montreal, Mr. Weedon nessage that Charles Eddis was going to come to the rink and watch us play. Charles Eddis is an Old Boy from the class of neans that he would be between 89-91 years old. He did come to watch, and when he saw UCC on the ice, he said "UCC St. Andrew's will prevail." Wow, he is 90 and still feels the competitive urge rise up within when he sees UCC. When the ver he came into the dressing room to meet the boys. It's a great reminder that it really doesn't matter how talented your team is, or how good they look on paper. You still have to go out there every day and work hard in practice, push each other to get better, respect and prepare for your opponent, and play the game properly – you can't rely on talent alone. Fortunately, this philosophy is something that the First Basketball team bought into whole heartedly during this season. The team was one of the most talented to take the court in Bedard Gym for several years, but they were also quite young, with only one grade 12 player. They had to learn how to play as a unit – unselfish and disciplined during every possession – to find success. They were able to do so, and should be extremely proud of their efforts. As a result, there were many highlights to the season, including CAIS, SAC Invitational, and Small School Showcase championships, as well as a silver medal during an exciting run at OFSAA. A sincere thank you to the entire SAC community for the way you rallied behind the team throughout the season and during their OFSAA run – it is something the boys will never forget. SL

While our offensive line continued to dominate and intimidate in the paint this season, your 2014 JV Saints will be remembered for their trapping defenses, fast break offence, and their dramatic comeback victories. Finishing with an overall regular season record of 6-2, your JV Saints finished in third place and hosted their first home playoff game against the York School. After defeating the Gladiators by a score of 56-31, your Saints earned a berth in the CISAA Tier 2 Final Four. This semifinal, an anticipated rematch against the De La Salle Oaklands, was a hard fought, fast-paced defensive battle that saw several lead changes in the first three quarters. Unfortunately, our shots in the final moments of the game didn't drop and we narrowly lost to the team that eventually won the Tier 2 championship.

On behalf of myself and Coach Eby, we are pleased to acknowledge the efforts the U16A basketball team.

We had a great year although we dealt with a fair bit of adversity. We lost some games to teams we should not have lost to and we had many injuries that depleted our roster for most of the year. A couple of our injuries were so strange, they are worth sharing.

In one instance at the very beginning of the season, we subbed one of our players into the game as the opposing team headed to the free throw line. Our player somehow managed to sprain his ankle on the shot and had to be taken out. His total playing time was one second and sadly, he wasn't able to play for the rest of the year.

On another case, we subbed a player out of a very physical game to get a breather. That player proceeded to injure himself on the bench. How on earth does someone get hurt while they are on the bench? Well, he actually fell off the bench and injured his back pretty badly. After missing the next few games on the IR, the poor guy spent the rest of the season getting treatment before and after games and practices.

In terms of results, as coaches, we set our goal on making it to the final four and although we did not make it that far, we still achieved many successes this season.

We finished 2nd in our group, with SJK finishing first. Our proudest moment as coaches this season was watching the boys come through at SJK with a huge victory in overtime. It was SJK's only loss in our division and St. Mike's was the only other team to beat them. That game said a lot about how good we could be when we execute our game plan-.

In terms of individual skill, each player came a long way through the season. Our shooting percentages increased, our defensive tenacity was commendable, and most importantly, the boys basketball IQ's all improved. LD

U14 Basketball had another very exciting season. In the preseason we hosted a 3 team tournament. In the first game we lost to St. Mike's by 35 points. I mention this game because we are able to gauge the progress we made this season by comparing our result the next time we played St. Mike's. In the middle of January we travelled to St. Mike's and beat them 30-28. It truly was a game for the ages. Not many basketball teams can say they went into St. Mike's and came out victorious. We followed up this most unlikely victory with another against UCC the following week. These 2 victories were certainly the highlights of our season. Dara Goharchi and Mario Vazquez led us offensively while the rest of the team contributed stellar defensive play to shut down these two vaunted opponents. DJ

By most accounts, the U13 basketball season was an amusing one. The goal of our team was to have fun and to promote individual and team development. The dictum, 'work hard, play hard' was very appropriate to this group of young athletes. There wasn't a practice where we didn't have a laugh or two! Our regular season record was 0-8. While our season record does not show as many wins as we would have liked, without doubt our main goal was met. Each player on our team had scored at least one basket during the regular season games. The Boys improved much on the fundamental basketball skills and were able to mesh cohesively together to learn several offensive plays. Although we didn't win any of our regular season games, games against BVG, HSC and Crescent were close in match when we played them a second time during the season.

The boys had a fun time at CAIS this year as we traveled to Surrey, BC to participate in the U13 CAIS Tournament. The boys were able to see some glory on the court as we won our first game against Strathcona-Tweedsmuir School in a final game with the score of 20-18.

To celebrate our season, our team travelled down to a Toronto Raptors game against Washington Wizards and watched their warm-up court side. Though we did not make the play-offs, Mrs. Porter and I thank all players for their contributions to this year's team. A special shout-out to captains Marshall Moore and Jeffrey Sun for their valuable contributions this season. JC

Our first game was at Holy Trinity School. We hadn't had much time to practice, so the first half of the game included quite a bit of confusion about positioning and man-to-man coverage. This improved noticeably in the second half, and the boys managed to earn their first victory. While steadily improving both their skills and their team play, they went on to establish a league record of 4 wins and 4 losses – good enough to earn a place in the championship tournament. On the day of the finals, the entire team was playing with confidence. The new boys, Matthew Schienke, A.J. Nichols, Chris Marton, Cen Xiang, Dutch Smith, and Jacob and Josh Melamedov, had gained plenty of experience and gave us numerous options on the court. In the round-robin, we defeated Kingsway College School and suffered a loss to the York School, which was good enough for a berth in the final four. In the semis, we were matched against Holy Trinity School for the third time in the season. In the previous meeting, we were undone by their star player, who seemed able to drive to the hoop and score from any angle. Because he was a known entity, we were able to key on him and keep his scoring to a reasonable level. It was a close contest, but in the end we prevailed and advanced to the gold medal game against the York School. They had been the #1 seed coming into the tournament, and we had lost to them in the round-robin earlier in the day, so we knew we had our work cut out for us. Although we put up a good fight, York was again too strong. In the end, we finished 2nd out of 16 teams in our league, and the boys should be very proud. The U13 coaches will be happy to see a number of these players in the fall, and I know many of them will be playing for years to come. SL

When Michael Phelps was chasing eight gold medals and Mark Spitz's Olympic record at the Beijing Games in 2008, he ha a little help from a teammate Jason Lezak the 4 x 100m relay. With the U.S. team trailing by almost a body length with 25m le to go, Phelps's quest was in doubt until Lezak swam the fastest 100m split in histo in a thrilling come-from-behind victory and proved that we all need a little help from ou friends sometimes.

Look up the race some time on YouTube and you'll get an idea about how the St. Andrew's Swim team felt watching James Stevenson's anchor leg in the Junior 4x50 medley at OFSAA. Sort of the same situation. His teammates – Russell Cheng, Jason Li, and Elliott Powers – all swam PB during their respective legs but we were more than a body length behind a superst team from Georgetown. But then James gets in the water. Looking like a great-whit shark (if the gw shark shed most of its bod fat and had a mop of red hair), James gain and gains until most of 300 or so people watching the race let out an "ooooooohhhhh as he slams the wall in first place. Gold. That was pretty cool, but even cooler was the fact that James gave up his spot on the 4 x 50 relay team to allow for another swimmer a chance to swim at OFSAA. Th swimmer, Nick Daguiam, and the same three guys from the medley relay all swam personal bests and had the race of their lives to also win relay gold at OFSAA. CM

We had a large group of swimmers this year on the Middle School swim team with a varied skill level from the newest swimmers to a talented club swimmer and everything in between, but they were all full of energy and the desire to develop their swimming techniques. They worked hard at each practice and were determined to lower their race times throughout the season. Their hard work paid off at the CISAA Championships where all of the swimmers accomplished personal best times and we had eleven top ten finishes.

One highlight from the CISAA Championships was the U14 relay team made up of Ryan Collis, Todd Tian, Eric Situ, and grade 7 Osher Lee, who was swimming with athletes one year older than himself. Our team won the gold medal in the medley relay, beating the second place team by more than seven seconds, a huge lead at this level. I know that Mrs. McCue and Mr. Trevisan are looking forward to having these swimmers and the rest of our grade 8 team in the Upper School swim program next year. We are also very excited to see what our younger swimmers can accomplish as they get bigger, faster, and stronger in the next few years. MT

I would like to begin by thanking everyone who is involved in developing and sustaining our program. First, Mr. Bedard for convening the league, reintroducing a JV/Tier II final, introducing and coaching a second U14 team. His interest and efforts, along with Mr. and Mr. Service's, are continually bringing new players to squash. Second, thanks to teachers who came out to play in our Monday night squash league : Mr. Service, Mr. Pac Papalia, Mr. Chadsey, and Mr. Jones. For our student athletes, it is a highlight of the step on court with one of their teachers or advisors to compete for bragging rights.
This season, with 6 of our top 9 returning, and the addition of Jake Mahfood at the numbe we started with one of our strongest teams ever. After coming second last year in a ve championship to Nichols School, and splitting matches this season with Nichols, we k were going to be in for a tough final. At the championships we disposed of Ridley Colldg 9-0 in the first round and then got past TCS 8-1 in the second. The guys were playing g looking forward to the final round. First up against Nicols was Jake Mahfood at number he stormed ahead 2-0, but then lost the next two games. Heading into the 5th, Jake refocused and determined. Any time Jake is in the fifth I will always bet on him; while oth get nervous, Jake looks like he is having the time of his life. He finished off his oppon tough but convincing win. In the meantime, Adrian Goyo lost at number 2 to an excellen Francois Yoshida-Are lost at number 3 and I know he would like that match back, but the Calverly came off the court with a 3-1 victory at rank # 4; so after four completed matc were tied 2-2. Next up, Mark MacKey lost at #5 and Scott Elliot won at #6. So, the seesaw co and we were tied again at 3-3. It was coming down to winning two of the final three at 8, and 9. Our strength is usually at the bottom of our ladder, so we felt confident we co Karim Popatia finished first, playing great, and winning 3-0. But then Dhruv Krishnan, at 8, fell behind 2-0, so it looked like it was all up to Henry Hsieh at number 9 and he was u 30 minutes later, Henry was tied at 2-2 but Dhruv fought back to tie his match up. Our 9th ranks went onto the court for the fifth game looking prepared to do battle and deter be the hero on the day. Henry played great in the final game and won convincingly givin final match we needed. Unaware of the outcome, Dhruv put his opponent away by convincing score and we took the day 6-3 and won our 7th Championship in 8 years! S

ISAA U16 squash league was as competitive as I've in years. League play throughout the season consists ibition tri-meets. All 19 players on the squad had a e to play in at least two tri-meets and thereby test their against athletes from other independent schools. Our e results were quite positive with 87 match wins and only ses. That being said, we had plenty of tough matches ose results.

nt into the CISAA tournament knowing that our chances cess were as good as anyone's, but also fully aware e were in for a fight from both Crescent School and College. To win the CISAA championship would e all eight representative athletes doing well at their ctive ranks: John Buchan at #1, Luis Munoz Saad at #2, Carter at #3, Michael Von Schalburg at #4, Nikhil Nath Tiger Xu at #6, Victor Li at #7, and Brandon St. Pierre alternate. Each set won by a St. Andrew's athlete earns t for our team. With seven athletes each able to ially win as many as 10 sets, that leaves a maximum oints available to any one team. Unfortunately, we lost ple of crucial sets throughout the day that cost us cantly in the final standings. In the end, only 3 points ated the CISAA championship team from the third place Crescent finished 1st with 57 points, Ridley was 2nd 5 points, and St. Andrew's came in at 3rd place with 54 . Standouts for St. Andrew's were Alex Carter and Victor swept the field at their respective levels. MS

For the first time, we ran two independent U14 Squash teams. There were 19 players on the RED teams and 18 on the WHITE team. It was really nice to have boys from Grade 5 through 8 playing together. These two teams practiced at different times so competing against each other during the season and the playoff meant something. We had a healthy rivalry. In the end the WHITE team earned the donuts, courtesy of the RED team's coach.

Among the 6 teams in the CISAA final tournament, our teams finished in 2nd (White) and 3rd (Red) place.

Mr. Bedard and I were very impressed by the level of effort, improvement, and sportsmanship.

The Squash program now boasts over 75 players which is incredible. We wanted to acknowledge the leadership and enthusiasm of Mr. Rush for making this happen.

We would also like to acknowledge Karim Popatia in particular for his help throughout the season. CN

In early January we took to the hills for our first on hill training session. Mr. Day and I were still not convinced that we had the makings of a of a championship team, but we quickly realized that we did have a friendly and cohesive group of highly dedicated racers. Despite the cold, never was there a complaint about to the weather during this first training session; our athletes kept on running gates, over and over again, constantly looking for our critique and ways that they could adjusted their line and technique to go even faster. It wasn't long into this session did Mr. Day and I fully realize how talented that we in fact were, and how motivated our racers were to win.

Finishing 4 seconds ahead of the next racer, and our top JV racer, Tony Sul, winning his race by more than 1.5s. These results at the finals ultimately secured the first CISAA Championships for both Varsity and Junior Varsity Ski Team since 2007.

Because of the success of our Varsity team, we were able to capture a spot at the OFSAA championships pitting us against the top high school programs in Ontario. Mr. Day and I were once again unsure as to how we would compete at this level as many sport specific schools had made great strides against the CISAA teams over the past few years. Our team consisting of Will Pidduck, Charlie Elliott, Alec Mulder, Ben Elliott, and Will Thompson were never fazed by the enormity of the event which included over 300 competitors and 2 days of high level racing. In fact during the free time between races and at night our athletes opted to rest and prepare for their races rather than take advantage of the numerous distractions associated with the Blue Mountain Village. All our racers knew the reason why they were there and like they had done all season, they never strayed from keeping their "eye on the prize". ND

CISAA CHAMPIONS

While the rest of the province was lamenting the snow ar cold the Nordic Ski team was pumped to be starting the race season early than ever. Add to that the excitement the Winter Olympics and we were feeling real intensity a a competitive spirit. 49 boys tried out for the team in November and we were able to keep 25. 19 of the 25 m up our core competitive racing team. Our dry land trainin program is intense, but with so many returning athletes new members took the cue and listened to the advice ab the hard work paying off later.

While our Junior boys won their CISAA division - it was default , the team consists of many new skiers and in tir they have the potential to develop into a competitive forc It was clear from the beginning of the seasons that our Senior boys led by Andrew Ladouceur and Austin Valja and had the depth to repeat last season's CISAA championship. Early races showed that we had a great combination of top ten racers, the boys pushed themsel to improve on each result, and sure enough we won this year's CISAA championships taking 1st , 4th , 5th , 6th, 7th, and 9th . My sense in watching them develop over season was that they had the ability to compete beyond own league and I wanted them to get a sense of their ov potential. In the CISAA relay races we only needed to be the other CIS schools to take our championship, but I lie them and told them they needed to beat all the schools all the regions racing that day in order to qualify of OFS Andrew Ladouceur, Jacob King, Ben Harrison and Marc Beauchamp blew us all away when they finished second in a battle of a race - 2 seconds behind one of the most competitive teams in the province. AK, BM

"We've beaten these guys 4 times already. Let's make it 5."

Those were the words our team overheard our opponents say as they stepped onto the ice to compete in the final game at CiSAA. Going into those final games in both the Open and Boys divisions, I would have said we had the odds stacked against us. Both opponents were undefeated through league play, and lead by experienced skips. We knew from the outset that it would be tough curling. With some pride I can say that we may have taught those skips a lesson that day.

Gentlemen, don't ever underestimate an underdog. Our curlers knew everything was on the line, and each player rallied to have his best game of the season. That afternoon in February saw two great games with the boys division team (lead by Skip Coverdale) controlling most of their game and the Open team (lead by Skip Virani) fighting for every point, pushing to an extra end, and winning with a brilliant shot on the final stone. In Dr. Joiner's words, the large and vocal crowd cheering for our competition was silenced and a bit stunned by the result. It was a great day, and a wonderful culmination to a great season.

It was an especially proud moment for Coach Joiner and I because this was expected to be a "re-building" year. Having graduated some great players last year, we were unsure of what the teams would look like as we moved forward with only 3 returning players. To our great fortune, those three veterans of the team took the time to mentor the new curlers, and helped us to develop some excellent raw talent into CISAA-winning skills.

We would like to make special mention of our Recreational Squad, a new and very successful addition to the program this year. We expect there will be many future competitive curlers coming out of that group, and we appreciate the positive new dimension they brought to our practices, as well as our Wednesday Timmie's runs.

We would also like to thank Mrs. Bedard for her organizational genius. MR ason started quite slowly with only 3 practices over 3 weeks e of weather conditions. We entered the UCC mini-tournament at l of April with little preparation. But as good coaching will do Mrs. Donahue, David Munro and myself still managed to get the boys pete at a high level. Although we lost three games of the 4-game nent, none of the boys lost their baseball caps that day, so it was ess.

urned to the friendly confines of our own field where we lost our games...handily. We then went on an arduous 2-game road trip we realized that we had been pitching from the wrong distance for ome games. But alas, we lost those games too.

So, your Saints entered the Final Championship week with an unblemished regular season record of 0 – 4. But apparently your Saints held all their hits and defensive plays for this final day. We managed to win our semi-final game against Montcrest, whose name sounded like a real powerhouse... but weren't. This means we made it to the championship match. And it was in this game where the boys played their best baseball. We won 6 - 4 to bring home the 2014 CISAA Consolation Championship. But since we didn't get a trophy for the work we put into that day, I decided to make our own. It is in my house on my mantle, and while I sit at home, on my couch and admire it (usually on my own), I believe it is a testament to all of our players who, like all the Andean's' that we are, never gave up and proved that miraculous things can happen.

I'd like to thank Mrs. Rose-Donahoe for being an amazing bench coach. She loves the game and looked great in the dugout with her designer slacks and a really cool blouse. Our student coach, David Munro, could always be counted on to keep the boys organized during our at bats, keeping them entertained on the bus and was a great first base coach for the second half of the season once he found out where it was. BK

Its been said that you learn more from losing than winning and that, in rugby, a team is only as strong as the weakest player. Both were true of our season. Despite an impressive pack that was as strong and technically skilled as any in the league – and perhaps stronger than most – our backs suffered from being either new to the game, or not positionally or athletically as strong as in previous years or as our opponents. This is no disrespect to those individuals involved – we had a team of character guys: hard working, responsible, committed to each other and to being the very best we could be. In sport, as in life, sometimes our best is simply not the best.

Our strong pack was able to dominate the shorter games, especially against teams that did not move the ball well. Unfortunately in the 70 minute games of the regular season this left us, for the first time in living memory, winless in league play and out of the playoffs. GS

Despite a late start to the season, U13 Rugby had the largest team in recent memory with 22 players, 18 of which who were new to the game. But what we lacked in experience, we showed in heart. Battling through rain-drenched practices, we saw great development over the course of the season as the boys worked on their tackling and their positional play. The U14 Softball team had a tremendous regular season ending in 1st place before the championship day. This team continued to intimidate with their past record of success, the best uniforms in the league, Lucas Labrier's pre-game warm-up music and Mr. Joe Bowen as our third base coach. We also introduced a new coach, Mr. K., after Mr. Hanson's retirement. Mr. K. tried to sneak in his fitness warm-ups as often as he could and also brought a calming and encouraging approach to the team. The boys played really well during our short season and impressed the coaches with their skill development, their positive and eager attitudes, and the overall love for the sport. Although we did not win the championship, this was certainly a season to be proud of. This was the most talented group of boys that I have coached at SAC, maybe more hockey players then softball however, a very athletic and fun group. Our captains, Brayden Byers and Will McHenry will hopefully join the baseball team next year. I also hope they will continue to demonstrate such excellent sportsmanship and continue having fun, whether winning or losing. RB

The senior track & field team had another season to remember. One of the highlights of the year was having the pleasure to watch Matthew Galajda finish 6th out of 6 people in pole vault. We look forward on having him on the team next year along with several of our other senior member's. We hope the boys are training all summer and come back prepared. NT

The highlight of my day this spring was being able to leave the office to work with the 1st tennis team whether at Fleury Park in Aurora where we practiced or at one of our 8 regular season matches.

In the end, all 13 players played in at least one league match. The way tennis works, is that the top 8 schools out of 14 qualify for the CISAA Championships. Coaches from all schools get together and rank the players.

In the end, we finished tied with Appleby for 2nd place well behind the undefeated UCC team.

Only Jason Graham graduates from our top 7 which includes 3 grade 10s. It bodes well for the future of SAC tennis, but as the boys found out, the top players in the CISAA are in fact also in Grade 9 or 10. So we will have our work cut out.

I would like to thank the returning graduates Captain Jason Graham, George Ciuciureanu, and Ken Zheng for their dedication over my two years.

Other graduating players are Yang Yang and Chris Merchant. As much as the football coaches did not want Chris to play tennis, we all benefitted from his intensity and energy, but also what it means to be a good teammate. PB

I have been coaching tennis for a long time, and I am happy to report that the standard of play is improving steadily every year. The highlight of the season, for the team, has to be finishing 2nd in our division. I am very impressed with the quality that new players bring to the team, and I am very impressed by the quality of the opposition. Each year we get stronger and better. Unfortunately, so does everyone else.
In tennis, the championship is determined by a tournament at the end of the season, where 8 teams each have 7 players, which are organized into 3 singles players and 2 doubles teams. A match is scored out of 5 points.

At the Finals, as expected, we faced strong opposition.
We won against Greenwood College School 4-1.
We lost to UCC 5-0, but that was no surprise. UCC and Crescent are perennially the top two teams. And guess what: both schools have a tennis bubble with indoor courts, which gives them a definite advantage.
Lastly, we lost a close match to Appleby College by a score of 3-2.
The end result being we finished 4th out of 8 teams. TP

U14 Tennis

It was a harsh beginning to our season to play Crescent, one of the top teams, without a single practice under our belt. Losing 5- nothing was no surprise. Losing 5-nothing to the 2 UCC teams was also no shock as our 3 practices just couldn't compare to their months of indoor practicing. Even Ridley was ahead of us this year, but they, too, had been practicing indoors. We were clearly at a disadvantage. The players, however, chose not to pack it in early but to push through their difficulties. The team's confidence was restored when they beat Country Day 5-nothing. Finally, they were able to demonstrate their true skills after gaining a couple weeks of practice. The final match of the season against Appleby was a disappointing end. The 2-3 loss could have been a 4-1 win and would have allowed us to compete in the CISAA finals. In the end, valuable lessons were learned and I am confident that they will go into their next tennis season as stronger individuals. I am proud of what they accomplished in such little time and I am proud that they pushed through their adversity. And I know that we barely scratched the surface of what they are truly capable of. For our returning players –Roy Huang, Alex Jones, Jack Kempczinski, and Willem Grier – you have a great foundation to build upon next year.

As is always the case, the U14 tennis team is a transient one. Joseph Grassa moves on to the upper school next year and Juan Carlos Velazquez, Jose Olivar, and Emilio Fernandez return to Mexico. Thank you for your talent and dedication. A special thank you goes to Luis Rivera for juggling the golf team schedule with ours as he was able to help us out in a pinch and even brought home a win.

The MIP, as voted by the team was given to one of our youngest members. He brought his game to every practice and always expected an improvement from himself. This year's Most Improved Player is Alex Jones.

The MVP, who was also voted by the team, is awarded to the player who never gave up, who constantly pushed himself, AND, demonstrated integrity, honesty, and self-control. These characteristics are what made our 1st singles player, Juan Carlos Velazquez, the 'most valuable' player. RO

Last spring the 2013 lacrosse team finished the season second in CISAA and 6th in AAA/AAAA OFSAA with an overall record of 19-11. Some decent results for sure and another strong showing from a team that since 2003 has amassed an overall record of 206-79-1 for a winning percentage of 72%, as well as four CISAA Championships, 1 OFSSA Gold, 1 Silver and 2 Bronze and numerous tournament championships.

Then came the shocking realization that we were graduating 18 of our varsity players! This coupled with 3 varsity and 4 JV players who chose not to play lacrosse this year and we were definitely in what you would call a rebuilding year!

Tryouts were held in late January and the coaching staff was very pleased with the development of some of our former JV players since the end of last season. This was evidenced by the selection of 5 grade 10's and 2 grade 9's to the varsity team. Newcomers Cal Walker, Ryan Keays and Corey Andonovski were welcome additions to the team. And, key to the new lineup were former JV and U14 players Jack Turner, Will Ashton, Drake Porter, Cole Chapman and grade 9 standout, Will Sirman.

Our season began with training camp on the last weekend of the March Break in the Bedard Gym and the Aurora Dome. With a winter that lasted until mid-April we spent another two weeks practicing in the dome, and then headed to Columbus, Ohio for our first games of the season. We stepped off the bus on a Friday night for our 9:00 pm start against perennial powerhouse, Kiski Prep from Pittsburgh – a team who had played 10 games already in Maryland and South Carolina! We face three excellent teams that weekend despite not having been on an outdoor field for a moment prior to these games. We placed 2nd in this tournament last year, but dropped three straight games by large scores this time around. While in Columbus the team visited Denison University, an NCAA DIII top 8 team located on 900 acres with only 1800 students. The boys watched Denison beat up on Adrian College from Michigan and then toured the athletic facilities with one of the coaching staff.

Back in Aurora we rattled off four wins in our next six games at home before dropping 10 straight against top ranked AAA/AAAA opponents from around the province.

Later in April both the JV and Varsity teams headed to Detroit for some exhibition games and also visited the University of Michigan where the boys watched the DI Wolverines dismantle the visiting team from Robert Morris University in Pittsburgh.

What was most challenging this season was our loses to UCC. Prior to this season, we last lost to UCC 23 games ago in the 2004 playoffs – a year they won the CISAA. Despite some close games in the last 10 years we had always bested the boys in blue. This was not to be the case this year with UCC boasting one of their strongest teams in over a decade. Fortunately they are fairly senior-heavy and planning is already under way to ensure we dominate them in 2015!

Over the course of the season the team has struggled with injuries, illness and a constant flow of GLC visits! Despite an overall record of 5-15, this season has shown some of the best development of our younger players in many years. Thrown into the deep end early in the season, our younger boys have learned, improved and grown as lacrosse players. The future definitely looks bright again for SAC lacrosse!

Our season will finish this coming Tuesday and Wednesday as we head to the Six Nations Reserve in Brantford for the A/AA OFSAA Championship where we expect to be seeded 4-6 and plan to come home with a medal!

To the graduating players - This year's MIP was a very difficult choice with a number of players who have improved significantly over the course of the season including: Will Sirman, Matthew Iezzi, Taylor Pilmer and Connor Cowl. However, this player went from being a late choice for the varsity team to being a starting LSM as well as a top short stick defensive midfielder. With the outstanding improvement of this player in just his grade10 year, the coaches are definitely looking forward to the impact he will have over the next two seasons! Congratulations to MIP Cole Chapman!

While several players were key to our ability to compete – players such as Logan Ward, David O'Connor, Bowen Reid and of course our goalie Drake Porter, the MVP award was a fairly easy decision. This player competed the entire season with a broken bone in his wrist and while normally a face-off midfielder, at times he was called upon to play attack, close defense, long stick midfield and yes, even goalie! This guy was the most important athlete and leader on this team both on and off the field. He played like a warrior every second of every game. He has matured beyond his years and sets an example which inspires younger players. The choice is clear, the 2014 1st Lacrosse MVP is Zac Masson. GR

The Spring term is always a challenge for the outdoor sports. You have to contend with the weather, the construction, and the various school commitments that rival your available practice time. Despite these setbacks, we had an enthusiastic 19 lacrosse players this year determined to play wherever we could. Of these athletes, 7 of these players were new to the game and a few were Redbirds rep players. Last year at this time, I asked for volunteers to play goalie. There was a deadly silence. We did have one student step forward initially, but that position is not for everyone. At least not anyone sane! Just before our first game against UCC, Sam Ashton decided to take one for his team and play goalie. He was tremendous and continues to learn the position. And it was because of Sam that we stayed in most of games. Looking at our record, it is an unfair representation of our team. 4 of the six games played were close. One game was not played due to lack of refs. We were also dealing with injuries early in the season and that certainly affected those games. But these seem like excuses – and they are.

We graduate 12 Grade 8's and will be sorry to see them go. We recognize Austin Brett, Steven Daher, Ewan Fox, Dylan Henderson, John Hopkinson Jr., Branson Johnson, Michael Kurp, Chris Poropat, Brady Reid, Quest Rodin, JP Schnabel, and Peter Wu. I hope they accept the JV challenge next year. We encourage new players to give lacrosse a try next season. Our returning players are keen to mentor new lax guys. FC

A train wreck at Station Creek involving the senior team (13th place out of 13 teams) required both the coaches of the senior and junior teams to rethink our strategy for the remainder of the season. While not giving up on the season, we decided to focus on developing our younger talent. As a result, the best junior golfers played on the senior team. This allowed us to give more players the opportunity to play on the junior tournament team. These changes (adding Kody, Michael and Matthew) brought some success for the senior team. In their last two league tournaments, the senior team finished 4th in both events and were invited to the championship tournament were we finished in 6th place. RG

Junior Golf had a very successful season in CISAA this year. I would like to thank all the players for a great season. Filip Grantcharov was our MVP as he consistently put up great scores that helped out our team. He led the team by example while impressing other coaches from other schools. Our MIP is Steele Rodin, he started out the season with below average scores in CISAA tournaments, but by the end of the season he was competing with some of the best players on our team for spots. Thanks to all the boys for coming out this year and on a fun season. MR

While there is no doubt that the weather conditions were tough for all sports this spring, it was certainly a daunting prospect to swim in the lakes that were covered by a substantial amount of ice for the first few weeks of the season. Our boys discovered just how cold the water can be at this past weekend's race in Woodstock. They braved the bone-chilling 62 degree water and swam very well under these difficult conditions. If you've ever swam in water this cold, you know how tight your chest becomes and how difficult it is to breathe. Putting your head under the water numbs your senses horribly, fogs your goggles tremendously, and inhibits your ability to navigate the buoys that are intended to guide you back to shore.

Despite the difficulty the cold presented, one must remember that everyone races in the same conditions and that one must remain in control of their attitude if they wish to achieve their best possible results on the day. Our guys maintained their composure during this particular race, but also throughout all their races this season.

We tried a few new things this year with the team. We signed up for a race called Mudd, Sweat and Tears. This 10km obstacle course, Tough Mudder-style race included crawling under barbed wire barricades, traversing fast-flowing rivers, scaling walls more than 20ft. high, transporting cinder blocks on their shoulders, and hauling sandbags up and down the Niagara escarpment. The boys found this to be very challenging, but we raced as a team and found greater strength and success by staying together.

There is no doubt that our most successful race was the Ancaster triathlon this year. We earned 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place in the Junior division (lead by Regan Kimens) and 2nd, 4th, and 6th in the senior division (lead by Andrew Ladouceur). The boys had their plan and executed with precision.

They ensured that every detail of their race strategy was considered. For as they say, luck is the last dying wish of those that want to believe that winning can happen by accident, sweat, on the other hand, is for those who know it's a choice – and our boys made that choice, to sweat, every day, every practice, and every race. It is for this reason that they should be very proud of their efforts throughout the year. KR

Weather once again played havoc with our preseason – all games being rained out. But May was co-operative, granting clean days to complete our league schedule. February to Ap indoor practices were highly intense, productive sessions, learning (and for some, refining) basic batting and bowling sk We beat both opponents in our first two games and started t believe it would be possible to achieve that rare undefeated season. But as May progressed, our practice frequency and intensity diminished, so it was no surprise we struggled in ou final games. Our only loss was at TCS, where our bats could connect with their bowlers on a spongy mat wicket. And for c final game, you may have read on the NEWS conference, we needed a small miracle to win at UCC this past weekend. Consequently, we ended the season co-champions for the 2 straight year, league winners for 4 of the past 5, and 5 of the st 7 seasons. Our captains (as voted by their team-mates) were Bobby Cave, Luke Simpson, and Patrick Taylor. We wish to n both Bobby and Luke, along with Fahim Ali for their fine contributions to the program in their graduating year. Our bo ng attack had more depth this spring, giving us a chance to win games, even when we batted in far less runs than previous seasons. Six bowlers all earned wickets, with Brandon Gome (10) and Patrick (9) getting the most. Bobby waited until his fu game heroics to smash 73, earning a terrific 48 run average. Dylan Van Eeden was next closest with an average of 10. Bo y and Dylan also took the most bare-handed catches, each ho ng 3. DK

My two years here at SAC have been very rewarding. When I came to SAC in Grade 11, I was nervous and quiet and I was not o expect here. Over the past two years, I look back and say that I have accomplished good things. Whether it would be a House Captain, or winning the CISAA cricket championship two years in a row. I would like to thank my parents for giving me nity to attend St. Andrew's College and to thank my friends and peers for making my years at SAC such a memorable . To the specific faculty, I would like to thank my advisor Mr. Bedard, and my two housemasters Mr. Ramon and Mr. Papalia for a great help over these two years.

Comment: My first year at SAC was grade 10 and I remember being terrified of what to expect. I quickly realized that SAC was the place I wanted to be. I tried to keep myself busy to make sure I never got homesick and SAC made this very easy to me. One thing I have really enjoyed doing over my three years here is to play soccer in the gym after study. We would gather some Mexicans and have Mexico vs Jamaica. The first teacher I met at SAC, Mr. Dave Stewart, really had a good impact on me at the school. As my housemaster for two years I appreciate all he has done for me. My time at SAC has been unforgettable and I am appreciative to everyone here for that. I hope to keep in contact with the friends I met here in the future. I will miss everyone here and I wish the best to everyone.

Comment: Before coming to SAC my motivation to involve in extra-curricular activities and to get good grades was not very high. I am proud to be able to say that SAC was able to change me by a tremendous amount. I would like to thank my parents for their tremendous support and sacrifices they had to make in order to let me stay at SAC for two years. I truly believe that SAC is a great place and for most boys it can make a big difference. I am very proud to have been able to attend this great school and it really was, so far, the greatest experience of my life.

Comment: SAC has been a journey filled with incredible experiences, struggles, and growth, and it has brought me to places I never could've imagined when I started in Grade 6. Whether I talk about the great memories or the personal growth, I would be doing a disservice to leave the people that have made SAC so special unrecognized. Thank you to my parents for giving me this great privilege of attending SAC, and to the many coaches and teachers who invested so much of their time into me. In particular, I want to thank my advisor Mr. Chadsey for his counsel and timely wisdom, and Mrs. O'Hare for her endless support, love and guidance. You all made my years at SAC unforgettable.

Comment: Coming to SAC in grade 8 I was a little reluctant to the whole idea of "all boys" but at the end of a 5-year span, I wouldn't have done it any other way. Whether I was partaking in focus plays or captaining the rugby pitch, I was my self and succeeding. The school mission statement dedicates its self to building the complete man and well-rounded citizen and at the end of 5-years I feel I am well on the way to fulfilling that statement. A highlight out of the many that really stands out to me is standing with my brothers, side-by-side, arms round shoulders, belting amazing grace. That will forever be one of the more significant moments in my life. To the people who helped me get through this journey I would like to thank Mr. Day for guiding me along the way as a housemaster, advisor and friend. As well Mr. Carroll and Mr. Trevisan, for being there for me whenever I had a problem of any sort, but most of all to my parents, without them I don't where I would be today. They are my idols and I thank them with all my heart.

"You can't connect the dots looking forward; you can only connect them looking backwards. So you have to trust that the dots will onnect in your future."- Steve Jobs. Over the past six years, St. Andrew's College has provided me with opportunities to try out a ıings. The unique experiences include meeting people from different countries, learning a new music instrument, and building a robot occer. I firmly believe that these dots will eventually connect in the future. The experiences I have earned from S.A.C are definitely the rdinary and the most precious, and I surely will remember them throughout my life.

Comment: Over the last two year, SAC provided me with countless opportunities and an experience of a life time. Two years passed so fast that I could still remember the orientation when I first met my advisor Mr. Papalia. I would like to thank him for guiding me though my first year and always supported me when I needed. I would also like to thank Mr. Carroll for teaching me on the basketball court and off the court as well. Special thanks to Mr. Prezens for the inspiration and patience you gave me, your class would be the last thing I would ever forget. At last, I would like to thank all my teachers, Mr. Chadsey, Mrs. Throne, Mr. Trevisan, Mr. Butcher and Mr. Service for an amazing year. SAC definitely wasn't an ordinary place.

Comment: My transition into St. Andrew's College in Grade 8 was quite a shock, mainly due to the fact that SAC is an all-boy's school and I knew no one there. Over the next five years, I had no idea that I would get to experience so many new things and make a bunch of new friends. The community itself was what led me to becoming more active in unfamiliar activities such as playing squash or other extracurricular. The only skillset that I had before I came to SAC was the ability to play the Alto Saxophone. In the first year of Grade 8, I was allowed to join the Middle School band and become one of the first Alto Sax's. When I moved up to the Upper School, I had to audition to be part of the Wind Ensemble and eventually moved up to become one of the first Alto Sax's as well. This was one of the many aspects of SAC that I found quite enjoyable, not a year went by without enjoying it. The people that I would like to thank are my parents for being able to give me the opportunity to attend St. Andrew's College, my fellow peers for giving me awesome experiences, and the faculty for being both enjoyable and amazing people. I would also like to personally thank Mr. Papalia for being an amazing advisor, Mr. Prezens, Mr. Galajda, and Ms. Scheepers for being very understanding and patient, Mr. Galajda, Ms. Scheepers, and Ms. Chasson for being an awesome band director.

I cannot believe after 7 years this is finally the end of my S.A.C career. It flew by in a blink of an eye. Coming in grade 6 was a scary ng all of my previous friends behind was a really hard thing for me to overcome, but the atmosphere of both the students and the staff ffortless transition. Though the days have come and gone, the memories will always hold a special place in my heart. Whether it was n the weekends to finish up art projects or shedding manly tears at the last Carol service, driving through the gates will always make ome. Comment: Ever since I was little, my parents haunted me with the notion that I would be sent to a boarding school someday if I didn't behave. Now look at me. By choice, I decided to attend a boarding school; and to top it all off, a school with a military background. Although this may seem frightening, it was the best decision I had ever made. Comment: "Life is a continuous progression towards death. Unless you are dead, there is a progress check"- Terry Prezens, 2014. We are all running towards our goals. On our way, we might trip and fall down. We might run into a wall and we might even be forced to go around on a different route. But that's okay, because life is a continuous progress check. If we fail to meet requirements for one progress check, we can alw make it right for the next. As long as we are alive, we have potential for improvement and progression. Never give up, because "[t]o do that we mean, not merely to be defeated, but to acknowledge defeat--and the difference between these two things is what keeps the world going". (The Jungle, Upton Sinclair) I thank Mr. Prezens, Ms. Chasson, and Mr. Roffey for instilling me with valuable life lessons that will guide me throug any adversities that I might encounter. I thank Mr. Inglis, Mr. Butcher, Mr. Shields, Mr. Galajda, and Mr. Jones for nourishing my love for sci I thank Mr. Papalia and Ms. Tackaberry for the ever-enjoyable calculus classes. nt: My 4 years at SAC has been pretty great. From meeting new people to learning joining new clubs and new things, SAC has been able to provide these opportunities for me. Along with the opportunities that were events like Carol Service and Cadet Inspection have left an impression on me that I will never forget. Overall retty sweet. I would like to thank my parents for giving me the opportunity to attend St. Andrew's College ank the graduates for making my years at SAC such a fantastic experience.

nt: Grade 8 was my first year at S.A.C, and ever since then, I have fallen in love with this place. Of course, a smooth transition at first. I was in a totally different environment, meeting different people, and a different . But soon, I realized how approachable and friendly my fellow students were, and warmed up to them. Not students, but the faculty members were also very approachable. S.A.C. surely does not emit the feeling of a chool, but of a close community, or even a family. I thank my parents for this great opportunity to study at

Since coming here in grade 9 I transformed from a timid and dumb kid to an unstoppable, weirder freak of nature. This school ne what it means to be an Andrean and he's a greedy, deeply flawed, one track minded purist who is delusional enough to think ntegrity, but that's just my opinion. On the bright side, I wouldn't say St.Andrew's College has been a complete waste of time, ains, found a passion and met a few great people who I'll have a hard time forgetting. Thank you immensely Trev & Grant.

Comment: Since coming to here in Grade 6, SAC has become a second home to me. In the last seven years I have made countless great mem s whether it be winning the championship with the squash team or singing and playing music with my peers at Carol Service. SAC has wonderl y shaped my future and my character through the experiences it offers and through the encouraging faculty and staff. I have learned valuable lif lessons and made lifelong friends here. All I can truly say is thank you to all that have shaped this amazing experience. What made my SAC experience so enjoyable is the people I got to share it with. I wish everyone the best in all their future endeavors.

Jin Hyunk YU

Comment: Coming to SAC in grade nine, I really didn't know how incredible SAC was. But attending SAC for 4 years now, I've come to notice this is where my dreams are fulfilled. I am leaving with a group of Andreans, a group that will stay in touch for the rest of our lives. This special bond of brotherhood is only existe at place like St. Andrew's College. I have learned a lot, helping me become a man and a strong individual. The long band rehearsals and demerit saucing Calculus c taught by Mr. Papilia, are only some of the memories I will cherish in my life. I also enjoy and love chirping kids. I can say it's my hobby. If I got paid a cent for y chirp, I would probably be donating cash flow to build a new parking lot called "Yu Park Here". St. Andrew's College has been a great school for me and my fam With the great support of all the teachers, especially the university counseling, I am proud to say that I will be attending University of Southern California next ye A great thanks to the dining hall staff for always preparing us with appetizing meals! I want to thank you every staff, faculty, teacher, and student body for allowing to have an amazing 4 years at SAC. I scored two own goals during the U16 soccer season.
